

Trainee Opportunity

Practical Action is a change making organisation that works in unconventional ways. We put ingenious ideas to work so people in poverty can change their world. We do things differently, so answers that start small can grow big - bringing people together in bold collaborations, using innovation and knowledge to build futures free from poverty and helping shape a world that works better for everyone.

Practical Action announces a trainee opportunity for fresh women graduates in Environmental Science or Agriculture to work for Practical Action Nepal Office.

About the role

The trainee will work in “Farming that works” theme of Practical Action as assigned by Sustainable Agriculture and Markets theme lead. Specifically, the trainee will work in APN-IGES joint Project “Regional partnership for localization of NDC through community led ‘local adaptation innovation hubs’ in the Asia Pacific” to learn and contribute through the following activities in this project:

- Support to establish Model Case Site (MCS) in Province 5
- Support and supervise activities at the MCS site
- Connect and engage with potential local partners and stakeholders
- Support to co-organize local capacity building workshops on Locally Led Adaptation
- Contribute to the synthesis of the lessons from the MCS site
- Attend cross-learning regional workshops

About you

You have a master’s degree in Environmental Science or Agriculture. You have willingness and enthusiasm in working with a multidisciplinary team. You have strong communication skills and fluent in spoken and written English and Nepali. You have a good learning agility and a zeal in applying your knowledge in a practical field.

Why join us?

The opportunity to work for an organisation that is making a positive difference to the lives of people worldwide, a friendly and supportive culture, working with values-driven and highly engaged colleagues, work life balance and flexible working – these are just some of the reasons we think Practical Action is a great place to work.

Practical Action is committed to safeguarding and protecting children and vulnerable adults, and candidates will be subject to pre-employment checks including criminal checks and terrorist financing. To ensure that Practical Action meets its obligations of safer recruitment, appointment to positions within Practical Action will be subject to a satisfactory criminal check. Criminal checks will be conducted for all roles.
